STRONG ARM OF THE LAW

A man is collared by a French policeman during yesterday's operation to close down 'the jungle' camp on the outskirts of Calais – but the issue of people trying to cross the Channel illegally is unlikely to vanish

■ BY MARIJKE COX

A SQUALID camp of hundreds of immigrants waiting to cross the Channel to Britain has been torn down by the French government.

The camp, known as the jungle, which sits just outside Calais, was cleared in dawn raids yesterday (Tue) by some 500 police officers.

Human rights protestors gathered at the site to try to stop the operation and arrests were made after scuffles broke out.

Some refugees stood quietly behind banners which read "The jungle is our house" and "We need shelter and protection, we need peace", but more than 270 were detained.

It is thought that hundreds of other immigrants living at the makeshift camp – mostly Afghans and Iraqis – had fled days before.

French immigration minister Eric Besson said refugees from the jungle would be deported but insisted this would only be if conditions for them in their home countries were safe.

The police action followed a significant rise in crime in the port town, including the rape of a London student last year.

M. Besson hopes the destruction of the camp will send the message to immigrants and people-traffickers that the route to Dover from Calais is no longer an option.

But the UN High Commissioner Antonio Guterres has incensed some British officials with his suggestion that the UK should "take a share of the migrants".

His comments have sparked fears of a repeat of problems seen after the closure of the controversial Sandgate camp seven years ago,

Cheap foreign labour threat to seafarers

■ BY MARIJKE COX

BRITISH seafarers working on the Dover Strait are facing hardship as ship owners opt for cheap foreign labour.

The claim was made during a conference held by maritime union Nautilus International, where officials discussed the long-running problems with employment on British-flagged ships.

Paul Maloney, from Nautilus, accused some Dover shipping firms of using foreign workers over British seafarers to save money.

He said: "Some well known companies operating services in Dover are employing seafarers from developing economies on rates appropriate to South East Asia rather than south-east England."

A motion was put forward at the meeting urging the Trades Union Congress to lobby the Government for further measures to promote UK seafarer employment and training.

Dover and Deal MP Gwyn Prosser, who is chairman of the All-Party Ports and Maritime Group, said the problem has been ongoing for ten years. Last year, he tried to amend the Employment Bill to end the "shamefully" low wages being paid to foreign seafarers working on vessels between UK ports and in the UK off-shore industry.

He hoped to get the minimum wage brought in for them to bring their pay in line with UK nationals.

This would also mean British seafarers would have more chance getting jobs, instead of being pushed aside by employees opting for cheaper workers. But the amendment was never heard.

Mr Prosser said: "It's hugely frustrating that on the one hand the Government has brought in radical improvements with the introduction of the UK tonnage tax, increasing ship numbers. But on the other, this huge expansion hasn't been reflected in British jobs."

GWYN PROSSER: 'It's 'hugely frustrating'

Mr Prosser said most ferry companies in Dover have not been seduced into taking on cheap, foreign workers, but the temptation is always there.

"I don't think any of the big firms would do it, but if one did then it could cause intense competition with the other operators. If a ferry firm paid out less in wages it could reduce its rates to hauliers therefore bringing in more custom. This temptation is what they need to try and avoid."

During the Nautilus conference, Lee McDowell, a member of the union, said the number of British seafarers is dropping significantly, with a loss of 30 per cent engineer officers in the past decade.

He added that even with the increased amount of trainee officers, the number is still expected to fall by a third in the next ten years.

But Mr Prosser, who is continuing to campaign for seafarers rights, said he has been "hugely encouraged" by meetings on the matter with transport minister Paul Clark.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Sea Change invitation

PEOPLE in Dover, Deal and Walmer are being invited to two neighbourhood forums.

A Dover town meeting is being held on Thursday, October 1, at the town council offices, Maison Dieu House, from 6.30pm.

Discussions will be on the Sea Change project and regeneration.

Speakers include the chief executive of Dover District Council Nadeem Aziz; KCC regeneration and project manager Amanda Lumley; and Dover Pride programme officer Sarah Lang. Deal and Walmer neighbourhood forum is being held on Tuesday, October 6, at Deal Town Council offices from 6.30pm.

Discussions will be on flooding and drainage with speakers from Dover District Council, the Environment Agency and Southern Water.

Doors for both meetings open at 6pm with light refreshments and the chance to talk to county, district, town and parish councillors. For more information, phone Emma Carey on 01622 694599.

Ferry firm's fall fares

FERRY firm LD Lines has brought in new autumn fares for all its cross-Channel routes.

Costs for the Dover-Boulogne service on the fast-ferry Norman Arrow start from £29 single for a car and five passengers or a short-break return from £28. The ferry also carries foot passengers on selected sailings, with prices starting from £18 return.

Passengers can get a premium lounge upgrade for an extra £7 per sailing, which includes priority boarding, access to an exclusive seating area. Visit www.ldlines.com or call 0844 5768836.

Teen driver charged

A TEENAGE girl has been charged with perverting the course of justice.

Billy Jo Darling, 18, is accused of giving false details after being stopped for suspected driving offences.

She was arrested at home in Barwick Road, Dover, on September 13. She was also charged with using a Transit van without insurance and without a valid licence.

She was bailed to appear at Folkestone magistrates on Monday.

Entrepreneur brews success with real ale

Redundancy cash put to use

■ BY NICK AMES

A SERIES of brews named after pivotal points in Kentish history is set to go on sale next month.

The Wantsum Brewery, founded by former Pfizer executive James Sandy, will be selling its beers in various pubs including The Red Cow, Sandwich, and The Crown at Finglesham.

They include 1381 (named for the Peasants' Revolt), Turbulent Priest (in honour of martyred Archbishop Thomas Becket) and Black Pig, the name for the ships of the Spanish Armada, whose wreckage was washed up on the coast near Deal after they were sunk by the English fleet.

Indeed, timbers from one vessel form the structure of a pub called The Black Pig in Staple.

The new micro-brewery has been funded by Mr Sandy's pay-off from his last job after he took a redundancy package.

"I wanted to do something positive and entrepreneurial and I've always been interested in brewing," he said.

"I know these are difficult times to set up in business, so I have called the flagship beer in my range Fortitude – as I feel that is what it takes to be successful in difficult times.

"When I was a manager I always talked to people I worked with about entrepreneurial skills and asked what they had achieved in that direction.

"I usually got rather feeble answers, so I thought when I had the opportunity I would heed my own words.

"Also I have to have some cash coming in to keep off the dole, so why not do something that I have always been interested in – rather than the safe option of going after another corporate post?"

A selection of pubs across east Kent has agreed to take the range of beers, which is currently finishing its fermentation process and being put into barrels ready for transportation this week.

"I spoke to members of the Campaign for Real Ale and they pointed me in the right direction when it comes to free houses," said Mr Sandy.

"I wanted to increase the range of beers on offer to people who enjoy a quality drink.

"I like a beer, but too often when I visit a pub for a drink I come away disappointed at what I have been offered."

INTEREST: James Sandy decided to use his severance package for a challenge

Clamped veteran demands refund

A SECURITY firm in Dover has come under fire after clamping the car of an Army veteran with false legs – despite a disabled badge being on display.

And even though the firm is now being taken to a small claims court for the distress caused to the 68-year-old, clampers from Able Securities are continuing their strict no-parking policy.

Rita Polly, 62, from Folkestone, had to pay the firm £157.75 after being clamped in Dover while taking her elderly mother to an exhibition in the town.

The widow told a national newspaper she pleaded with the clumper, pointing out the disabled badge, but he simply told her to put in an appeal.

Disabled

Roy Jones, an Army veteran from the Ashford area, suffered the same fate when he found his car clamped in what he thought was a car park of a hotel he was visiting in Folkestone.

He said he had put a note next to his disabled badge saying he would be 30 minutes but was clamped anyway.

According to Mr Jones, the clumper told him to walk home – despite him having two false legs – or pay the £149, causing Mr Jones such distress he is now taking the firm to a small claims court.

A spokeswoman from the Security Industry Authority, which manages the licensing of the private security industry, said it was illegal to clamp a car displaying a disabled badge.

She said: "Clamping a car which displays a valid disabled badge breaks the conditions of holding an SIA licence, which is a criminal offence.

"Anyone clamped when displaying a valid disabled badge should call the police to have the clamp removed, then report the clumper to the SIA."

Despite repeated attempts, Yourdovert was unable to contact the proprietor of Able Securities.

Calais camps

when Britain gave work permits to more than 1,000 migrants.

Just months after doing so, it emerged that many of them were claiming benefit.

Tory immigration spokesman Damian Green told a national newspaper that although Britain had a duty to refugees, it did not have to support immigrants who had found their way to Calais.

A UK Border Agency official backed his comments, stating the decision to close illegal encampments in and around Calais was a matter for the French government.

"People seeking asylum should do so in the first safe country they come to. Those who are not in need of protection will be expected to return home," she said.

She added that the UK supported action to tackle illegal immigration and to break up trafficking routes.

"The Government has an agreement with France to secure the border at Calais and is committed to working to ensure illegal immigrants are not able to cross our juxtaposed border," she said.

Charlie Elphicke, Tory parliamentary candidate for Dover and Deal, recently visited the jungle and subsequently spoke with Shadow Home Secretary Chris Grayling about his concerns.

"Closing the camp could lead to immigrants being dispersed to less secure French ports," he said.

Lad landed in court by 'kegging' prank

A TEENAGER has been arrested for assault after allegedly pulling down another boy's trousers.

The so-called 'kegging' incident, which happened at the play area in William Pitt Avenue, Deal, saw a 15-year-old arrested after yanking down the trousers of a nine-year-old boy.

He was charged with assault and will face Folkestone Youth Court on Tuesday, October 6.

The arrest has caused some to question the severity of the punishment for what is seen by many as a childish prank.

But a Kent Police spokesman said kegging, which is the name given to the trick, popularised on TV chat show Lily Allen and Friends, is "nasty" and shouldn't be overlooked as a playground joke.

"People may think it's funny, but it really isn't for those attacked," he said.

"It's quite common for people to film it on their phones, too, and put it on YouTube.

"But it's assault and shouldn't be seen as a prank. It wasn't something that happened in the playground when I was at school."

The BBC was criticised last year when it made a decision to air footage of a teacher having his trousers pulled down by a pupil on Lily Allen and Friends.

On the show, the star described kegging as "very childish, but very funny".

But the police spokesman said people needed to realise the severity of their actions.

"If a person is thinking of doing this to someone they need to realise they can be arrested for assault," he said.

Mother-of-two Julie Rook, cabinet member for citizenship, youth and sport at Dover District Council, said arresting the boy could be seen as heavy-handed.

"Pulling someone's trousers down is stupid and unacceptable," she said.

"If one of my children did that I would be very angry, but whether this warrants an arrest is another thing.

"I think it seems a bit heavy-handed, although I'm not condoning what he did.

"It seems morals have taken a bit of a nosedive, so perhaps we do need to start being stricter.

"A 15-year-old really should know better than that after all."

Fire experts looking into what caused pub blaze

AN INVESTIGATION is under way after a blaze destroyed the back of a pub in Dover.

The Cinque Port Arms in Clarence Place was left damaged after a fire broke out at about 6.40pm on Friday, September 11.

Fire crews tackled the blaze, which spread over three floors, destroying most of the back of the building.

An investigation is being carried out to determine the cause of the fire. No one was injured in the incident.

Teenage louts make a mess of wing-mirrors

POLICE are investigating damage to wing-mirrors of cars in Walmer.

In the early hours of Saturday, September 12, cars in Gram's Road, St Clare Road and Hawkdown Road were damaged.

A group of teenage boys was seen running away from the scene and witnesses have given police names of potential suspects.

Anyone with information is asked to phone Kent Police 01304 240055 or Kent Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Kent Police shares running its helicopter with the Essex force, which brings a huge cost-saving as well as shared experience and knowledge of two forces. The helicopter is now considered a vital tool in not only the fight against crime but also helping to trace missing people. JANE BARLOW talks to Chief Inspector Richard Watson about the massive benefits it brings.

THERE are no hiding places and there is no escape when the Kent Police helicopter swings into action.

This is the message from the force's Chief Inspector, Richard Watson, who is in charge of the helicopter's movements in the county and believes it is a powerful tool in the fight against crime.

The helicopter is a Eurocopter EC135, a special police spec aircraft and is the machine most commonly used by forces in the UK.

It is called out for a variety of reasons. It can be used to help find a missing child or vulnerable adult, it could be used to chase a stolen car, or to find a suspect hiding in a field under the cover of darkness.

Over the past two months it has been used at a Gillingham football match where it supported officers who were policing the stadium and the town area, to help find a missing boy from Minster and to chase two armed robbers in their get-away car in Lamberhurst.

Weapons

The helicopter was used when two large groups of youths met in Medway. The helicopter helped the police find out where the groups were meeting, where they were coming from and to identify those carrying weapons.

High-tech cameras on board the helicopter were used to take photographs of those involved and as a result some were arrested and charged.

With others, police showed video footage to their parents to make them aware of the severity of the incident in which their teenage children were involved.

It was also used to help recover two stolen dumper trucks worth £200,000 which were about to be shipped to Poland. The trucks were fitted with tracking devices which the helicopter is able to pick up and quickly find.

Chief Insp Watson said: "The helicopter is a piece of technology which helps us to do our jobs better. It can do so much more than what we can do on the ground. It can cover areas we couldn't even consider covering as police officers.

HELICOPTER FACT FILE

- The helicopter can travel up to 160 mph.
- The helicopter attended 558 incidents between April 2008 and March 2009.
- It assisted in the arrests of 50 people (between the above dates).
- It helped locate 13 vulnerable people.
- It located 14 stolen vehicles with a total value of £120,000.
- It searched just under 900,000 sq kms.

STATE-OF-THE-ART: The high-tech Eurocopter EC135 is the aircraft most commonly used by UK police forces

"For example, if I needed to search a field at night this might take 20 officers an hour, but it would take the helicopter a matter of minutes.

"It allows us to use our resources on the ground better.

"Having it overhead makes people feel safer, it makes officers feel secure and tells criminals that there is no escape."

The helicopter has been jointly run by Kent and Essex Police since April 2008. It is used in Kent most days and comes to the county when required.

The helicopter can travel at 160mph. On board is a civilian pilot employed by the police and two police observers. It is fitted with a thermal image camera which detects people who are hiding, by locating the person as a heat source. It has a search light which is the equivalent of lighting 30 million candles. The helicopter is also equipped with a megaphone.

From the helicopter photographs and video footage are taken. There is a radio link so that those in the air can speak to officers at the scene and a downloading link to ensure footage from the air can be seen by officers on the ground and at the force control centre.

The helicopter can dissuade criminal activity. People are less likely to break the law if they know they are being watched and filmed and could be identified and arrested.

The helicopter was called in when officers trying to apprehend an offender following a burglary in Ashford were pelted with bricks and stones. When the helicopter was spotted the attackers stopped and went into their homes. Chief Insp Watson said: "They knew they were being recorded."

The aircraft can help police gain an overview at a large event, such as a music festival attended by thousands of people. From the air officers can identify possible issues before they become problems. The helicopter attends to focus on public safety and to monitor movements.

Chief Insp Watson said: "I am convinced the helicopter makes the public more confident in Kent Police, knowing that we are doing all we can to catch criminals and keep members of the public safe."

VITAL TOOL:

Chief Inspector Richard Watson says the helicopter helps Kent Police make better use of its resources on the ground

Why your NUM13ER'S up

Kent is leading the way with new technology that monitors vehicle number plates across the county. While some people have described it as a Big Brother-style technology watching our every move, officers running the £5.3 million system believe the benefits are huge in the fight against crime, as well keeping uninsured drivers off of our roads. STEVE KNIGHT went to have a look.

MURDERERS and shoplifters are at different ends of the criminal spectrum, but thanks to new police technology they have at least one thing in common – they are both equally vulnerable behind the wheel.

Automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) cameras make it easier than ever before for officers to identify vehicles linked to criminal activity, ranging from motorists with no insurance to getaway cars used in armed robberies.

Kent Police has so far invested £5.3 million in the system, which draws on information from a variety of national databases and flags up vehicles of interest in the blink of an eye.

Chief Insp Richard Watson heads the ANPR team.

He said: "There are people who say it's like Big Brother, but I would have no need to look at your car if you were not involved in criminal activity."

"The link is about the vehicle and not necessarily the driver. It's an intelligent way of us knowing which vehicles to stop."

"Whenever someone commits a crime they are vulnerable while they're in that vehicle. They're effectively in a little box and they are also contained because they're on the road. With the ANPR system there are eyes and ears all over the county, ready to get the people who break the law."

Kent Police has hidden cameras placed in several undisclosed locations throughout the county, with more than a million vehicle movements recorded per day.

Motorists without tax, MOT or insurance are most at risk of being stopped due to the system being linked up to the national DVLA database, although officers can also ask it to keep an eye out for registration numbers of vehicles used in criminal activity.

CI Watson said: "It's very effective. Recently we used it to capture a team of workmen who were defrauding elderly victims – we caught them red-handed, which was fantastic."

"It was a group of people going around and being very repressive in their approach, but having to drive around in their work vehicle made them vulnerable. We put a target on it and when the ANPR flagged it up, we caught them actually going back to an address they had previously visited."

"But the lack of things like tax and insurance also displays to me a certain lifestyle. I pay my tax and my car has an MOT. If someone doesn't pay that then what else don't they do? ANPR allows us to take the bad people away from the good."

As well as its collection of fixed cameras, Kent Police also has a team of dedicated ANPR officers who can set up wherever they like and immediately stop any vehicles that are flagged up.

When Kent on Sunday was invited to witness their work first hand last month, the team chose the busy New Road area that links Chatham with Rochester.

PC Gryff Rees manned the ANPR hub – an unmarked vehicle containing cameras and computer equipment – while his colleagues stopped cars, trucks, vans or bikes that the computer told him were suspicious.

To ensure none escape the hub officer's attention, a number of different sounds are allocated to certain discrepancies. For instance, "hallelujah" can be heard when the registration number of a stolen vehicle is caught on camera.

Police can also switch databases depending on what they are looking for. New Road in Chatham for example, is notorious for its prostitutes and is therefore the ideal location for ANPR to keep a look-out for cars belonging to known kerb-crawlers.

Each patrol vehicle is fitted with its own touch-screen device that is linked to the same databases as the main computer and also lets officers access the Kent Police intranet as well as their own emails.

CI Watson said: "Officers think it's a fantastic tool. My plan in Kent is to expand it as so every patrol car has it. We are nearly there now because about 75 per cent of them do."

"We are probably leading in the country with ANPR. We've invested £5.3m and that money has been well-invested. We are trialling hand-held ANPR in Maidstone, and that's not being done anywhere else in the country."

Payments delay 'could kick-start building schemes'

STALLED housing developments in Dover could be given a kick-start under plans being considered by the district council.

If the proposals go ahead, developers could defer paying the required Section 106 Agreement, which funds infrastructure such as schools and parks.

Under existing laws, contractors are obliged to pay this as a condition of planning permission being granted for housing developments, but in the tough economic climate, developers are putting building on hold, blaming the Section 106 agreement for making developments too expensive.

Paul Carter, leader of Kent County Council, said the agreement needed to be reviewed to get house-building restarted in growth areas.

Ashford Borough Council was the first in the country to defer payments, and Dover District Council is considering following its lead.

A spokesman from DDC said: "The council will be considering its approach towards development contributions, including the option of deferred contributions, through the preparation of a Supplementary Planning Document."

Local authority officials from across Kent attended a workshop held by legal property experts Vertex Law to discuss the situation.

Richard Blackman, chief executive of the firm, said of plans to defer payments: "It is a pragmatic solution which shares some of the risk while still ensuring that local authorities receive a fair level of infrastructure funding."

A Dover District Council spokesman said work towards a resolution was in hand but no decisions had yet been made on whether deferred payments would be introduced.

QUESTION & ANSWER

STUART RICHARDSON

Q How did you get involved with the Dover RNLI?

A I have been involved with the sea and the Royal National Lifeboat Institution since I was born as my father was the coxswain of the Dungeness Lifeboat. As I was growing up, the lifeboat was a very big part of my life and in time both my brother and I joined the Dungeness crew. I later joined the RNLI full-time as a lifeboat helmsman on the River Thames. When the position at Dover became available, I applied for it and was appointed.

Q How long have you been coxswain of the Dover Lifeboat?

A I haven't been coxswain at Dover that long, only arriving in autumn 2007. However, last year I was awarded my long-service badge for 20 years' service as a lifeboat crew member.

Q What is the best thing about the job?

A It is the indescribably good feeling you get when you know you've saved someone.

Q What is the most challenging thing about it?

A My friends and crew would probably joke that, due to my being a bit vertically challenged, it is being able to see to helm the lifeboat. However, for me it is managing to organise the crew's training. In Dover, most of the crew are shift-workers. This means we have crew available throughout the week, but we can never all get together at the same time.

Q What has been your most exciting rescue to date?

A All shouts have an element of excitement. I can't name a specific one, but I think the type of rescue I find most exciting is where I have to helm the 45-tonne lifeboat up against another much larger vessel. The most common reason for us to perform this manoeuvre would be to transfer an injured or sick person from a ship to be brought ashore for treatment. The skill is in reading the sea and how the other vessel is behaving to minimise the impact when the vessels touch.

Q Dover RNLI has been very busy this year. What do you think are the reasons for this?

A The crew and I thought we were busy last year, being called out for emergencies on 60 occasions. This year we have already been paged more than 50 times and this is before the end of the summer holidays. Some incidents have indicated that the people who have got into difficulties have had a poor awareness of the dangers the sea and shores can pose.

Q The RNLI relies solely on donations and fund-raising. Has the recession affected this?

A As with most charities the recession has had a significant effect on the RNLI. The charity's reserves are much lower than they have been previously. Almost 60 per cent of the institution's annual income is received from legacies but, due to falling house prices and the falling stock market, these bequests are now worth less in real terms. What is important, though, is that the level of service the public receives is undiminished.

Q Tell us something people don't know about the RNLI

A The archetypal lifeboat crew member is traditionally seen as a bearded fisherman, but today only 10 per cent of volunteers have a maritime background. To ensure all volunteers are fully trained, the RNLI has a world-class training facility at Poole. There is a bridge simulator for command and navigation training as well as a large wave pool for training inshore lifeboat crews in capsize drills.

Q What do you do outside of your job as coxswain?

A I like to spend as much time as possible with my family. I have three children and they are used to seeing me disappear to the lifeboat station, so all the time I can spend with them is precious. I've recently joined the Rotary Club and I'm preparing for the Great South Run. Four of Dover's volunteer crew and I are gathering sponsorship through www.justgiving.com/dover-lifeboat prior to running the 10-mile race in October.

Q&A

The coxswain of the Dover Lifeboat talks to reporter Marijke Cox about how he got involved with the RNLI, what challenges he faces during his work and his preparations for the Great South Run in October

LONG-RUNNING: Rail operator Southeastern has doubled the number of carriages due to the success of the service

High-speed demand means longer trains

TRAIN bosses behind the new high-speed service from Dover to London have had to double the number of carriages due to its popularity.

The move follows an influx of passengers opting to use the fast HS1 train over the conventional service after previews of the speedy travel system were rolled out in east Kent.

On Monday, Southeastern doubled the length of the 6.42am train running from Dover Priory to St Pancras International from six to 12 cars.

Vince Lucas, commercial director at Southeastern, said the company was thrilled that the service was proving so popular.

"It fully justifies our decision to extend the preview service to this station – there is real demand for these trains and it bodes well for the full introduction of the new timetable in December. To have to extend the Dover Priory service is exceptional and is, I think, a reflection of just how much time passengers are saving."

Vision

The new service, which can travel at 140mph, allows commuters to get to the capital in just over an hour during two morning peak services, returning in the evening peak.

At the start of September, the new service was launched with Dover and Deal MP Gwyn Prosser and other district politicians eagerly watching the HS1 pull into Dover Priory.

Mr Prosser said the service had helped realise Dover's vision of providing a high-speed link between Europe's busiest capital and the world's busiest ferry port.

"This has always been crucial to our ambitious regeneration plans and I congratulate Southeastern on delivering this expanded preview service ahead of target," he said.

Charles Horton, managing director of Southeastern, said: "The high-speed service we hope will act as a real catalyst for the economy in the region but, above all, it will provide an additional choice of service for passengers."

Councillor wants Quarterdeck to be used for town

PRESSURE is being put on the district council to turn part of Deal's Quarterdeck into a community space for the town's people.

Mike Eddy, Labour shadow cabinet member for corporate resources and performance, said that a recommendation was put forward at a recent meeting of the scrutiny committee to consider this proposal.

Current plans for the empty building are the construction of flats and six shop units, but Cllr Eddy said a community space would be a much better idea.

"At the moment there are a lot of empty shops in Deal, so we don't need another six," he said. "We managed to persuade the committee that what we should be doing is looking for a community space which would benefit the people of Deal."

"The Quarterdeck was always used for the community before – building flats is just an easy way for the council to bring it back in to use. I think people in the town would be much happier if a community space was added to the development."

Marketed

Last year, the former manager of Deal's Flicks cinema, Allan Thomsett, came forward to see if the Quarterdeck could be used as a new picture house.

But he was turned down after council leader Paul Watkins said the building would be marketed to get the best price.

Cllr Eddy, who admitted he thought the design of the flats was in keeping with the seafront, believes the idea of an entertainment or arts venue should be pursued.

"This is still on the table," he said. "We've put in a recommendation which will go to cabinet members. I just want to see the building brought back in to proper use. The council has got to keep its options open and not just put flats up as a quick way to make money."

"From speaking to people in the town, they would be pleased to have something for the community put in the Quarterdeck, so it's time they were listened to."

BREAK TIME

It's a very fair cup

POLICE met their match when they took on Shepway youngsters in an annual football tournament.

Youngsters aged 11-14 from local villages competed against each other and the neighbourhood police team for the community challenge cup.

Teams from Capel, Hawkinge, Lyminge, Lympne and Elham took part, with Capel declared overall winners.

PC Trevor Moody launched the annual tournament in 2006 after youngsters said they had nowhere to play football.

The police team played well, remaining unbeaten until they took on KCC community wardens, who won 4-2.

Shepway council chairwoman Susan Carey and Ch Insp Martin Bradley presented Capel with the cup.

The day the music died

AN OPEN day was held at Deal Parochial Primary School in remembrance of the IRA bomb attack on the Royal Marines barracks in September, 1989, which killed 11 bandmen.

The day was organised by Dover museum and gave people the chance to talk about their memories of the tragedy.

The information will be used to produce a website and exhibition.

The project is being run by the museum on behalf of the district council and funded by the Museums and Libraries Association, helped by Deal Town Council and Walmer Parish Council.

Puppeteer Estelle's family ties to wartime tragedy

■ BY JAMES ALEXANDRE

A PERFORMANCE artist is using her latest exhibition of puppets and dolls to showcase and interpret her tragic family history.

Estelle Rosenfeld, who is usually known for her successful children's shows, has created the work through a mix of media.

These include using five 'train carriages' to view simple and childlike animation films, telling the story of how her family were transported to Auschwitz extermination camp during Second World War.

These deal with Estelle's interpretation of family memories and stories, including her father's account of how her family emigrated from Poland to Paris at the beginning of the 20th century before being sent back for the final time by the Nazis in 1942.

She said: "When I was 15, I went to Auschwitz. When I came back I kept dreaming about trains taking you there – it was my nightmare. Sixteen years later, trains become the link between this fragmented history of my family."

Estelle said her new exhibition was inspired by a family snapshot taken in 1930 at Berck, across the Channel on the French coast.

She said: "What struck me was this golden-age feeling, of people caught between two migrations, one to the west and another back to the east. I wanted to re-enact the snapshot, so I started to make puppets embodying my deported relatives."

Estelle grew up in a theatre environment

and trained as an actor before founding her own puppet company in Paris.

Since then she has produced two children's shows, one for primary schools, Les Sept Vies du Chat (The Cat's Seven Lives), the other for children from one to five years old, Rouge au Jus d'Orange (Red with Orange Juice).

Other events taking place during the two-week exhibition next month include Puppetry In Your Practice, by Performing Art Network Kent. A workshop led by Estelle will take place on Monday, October 5, led with a skills exchange for practitioners and a scratch presentation open to all.

The Puppets and Dolls exhibition will be at Georges House Gallery, The Old High Street, Folkestone, from 10am-5pm between October 2-14. Entry is free.

There are also showcase events on consecutive Sundays, October 4 and 11, from 3pm, at Georges House Gallery, which cost £5. For details, visit www.puppetsanddolls.org.uk.

Magical Charlie has everyone bewitched at Demelza House

RECEIVING a magic wand from Harry Potter, dining with Eamonn Holmes and holding a host of fundraising activities are just some of Charlie Welch's favourite experiences.

Life is never dull for the 17-year-old girl who has relished helping others, which has strengthened her resolve in fighting a medical condition doctors have confirmed is terminal.

Since being diagnosed with a rare genetic disorder – mucopolidosis III – ten years ago, the Chatham teenager's health has suffered to the point where she can no longer walk or talk.

But that hasn't stopped her raising thousands of pounds for Demelza House at Bobbing, near Sittingbourne, which has thanked her for her efforts as the care facility marks national Children's Hospice Week.

"She's an inspiration," said her mother Trisha Welch, who is planning to mark her next birthday with a themed fancy-dress event.

Charlie will be aiming to drum up even more money for the hospice, which has made a big difference to her and many hundreds of children from across Kent. She said: "Each year I spend three weeks at Demelza House. I look forward to it so much and when I'm there I forget all about my illness."

"My condition means my body can't break down waste products which has caused arthritis, osteoporosis and scoliosis, where my spine curves. Doctors say I'll live to early adulthood, but they can't predict what will happen after that."

"I get really scared about the future, but I never feel scared or sad at Demelza House. I've been going there for eight years. It's good for my mum to have a break, too."

"Even though all the children have terminal illnesses, we never talk about serious stuff. Sometime we have girly weekends when no boys are allowed to stay.

"Once we went to London to see The Lion King musical. Many of us don't know how long we've got, which makes having fun even more important."

During a visit to the GMTV studios with the hospice, the show's host Eamonn Holmes was so impressed with her efforts he came to visit the hospice and had lunch with her.

Charlie also got to meet her hero, Harry Potter, aka actor Daniel Radcliffe, on the set of The Goblet of Fire, where he gave her a special present of a magic wand, a Hogwarts tie and a magic gown.

Mum Trisha said Charlie, who attends Bradfield School in Chatham, makes the most of every day with great support from her younger brothers, Jacob, seven, and 14-year-old Adam.

They have both stayed with their sister at family respite days at Demelza.

Trisha conceded they all have down days but stressed her daughter's remarkable determination and generosity had touched all those she has encountered: "She is always smiling and puts everyone else first. I really couldn't say exactly how much money Charlie she has raised over the years but we've had many events, from discos to pantomimes. I don't know what we would have done without Demelza, they are like family to us now. There's always someone there on the phone for you if you need to talk and it's been great for Charlie, who sees it as her home from home."

Lisa Busby, who works in the fundraising team at the hospice, praised Charlie for making such a strong contribution to it.

She said: "Charlie is a fantastic girl and we are grateful for her fundraising efforts. It's amazing she has been able to do all that she has done for us."

• Demelza House is holding an open day on Saturday, between 10am and 4pm.

Training agreement gets to grips with 2012 judo squads

TWO countries will base their judo squads in Kent to train and prepare for the London 2012 Olympics.

Officials from the Ukraine and Belarus signed a formal agreement with KCC leaders at County Hall in Maidstone on Monday.

Their judo squads, both of which are highly fancied to win medals, will be based in Tonbridge School and will use Tonbridge Judo Club for training.

Both teams will consist of about 50 people, including athletes, coaches and others.

KCC hopes the agreement will prove a much-needed boost to its efforts to capitalise on London 2012.

It wants to create a long-lasting sporting legacy for the county from the Olympics.

KCC also wants to build strong links between international athletes and communities in Kent by the elite sportsmen and women training at the county's venues.

Kent has the most venues in England approved for pre-games training camps for Olympians and Paralympians.

In signing the agreement the Ukraine and Belarus became the first countries to commit to training camps in Kent for the 2012 Olympics.

But the Barbados Paralympic team had already committed in April this year to train at Medway Park in Gillingham in the run-up to the London 2012 Paralympics.

Colombia and Malawi have also signed an agreement to train in the South East prior to the games, but are yet to decide where they will be based.

Kent Liberal Democrat Bill Furness airs his views on switching off lights to cut down on dirty power stations

KENT is known the Garden of England, but the county is seeing more and more wind farms developed within its boundaries.

Whether in the sea or on land, these wind turbines are part of the way in which we as a country can produce electricity from clean and efficient green sources.

Hopefully, one day we will end up being carbon-neutral, and thus less reliant on coal-burning power stations.

Almost 50 per cent of the world's electricity is generated from these dirty forms of power stations, while in this country only about 33 per cent of our electricity is made this way.

Unfortunately, the use of coal power stations is increasing in many developing countries such as China and India, where coal is cheap and plentiful – these coal stocks could last for well over another century.

Regretfully, here in Kent, Kingsnorth power station is being built to use coal.

Efficient

We all know that the biggest problem with producing electricity this way is that it also produces CO<sub>2</sub> emissions.

These in turn cause global warming and acid rain – the pressure is on for scientists to develop methods to ensure that any CO<sub>2</sub> captured is then not released back into the atmosphere.

Kingsnorth will still only capture 25 per cent of the CO<sub>2</sub> it will produce.

While we can all help by changing our light-bulbs in our homes to more efficient ones, and

Now it's time for all of us to stop wasting energy

by switching off 'standby' on our TV sets, the reality is that as a country we waste too much electricity.

Look at any large corporate or even Government and council buildings at night to see them all lit up.

Go to any of our local shopping centres to see the waste of lighting, while in the winter all the heat that these same shops use escapes out of their doors.

How much longer will we allow this to go on, or will Government intervention in the way of legislation be the way to end this waste?

If we want to see fewer wind farms and fewer power stations being built, it is up to all of us to conserve the electricity that we use and also watch the way that we use it.

WIN £150 to spend at Jacques Vert

PUT simply, there's no other brand that presents occasion dressing quite like Jacques Vert.

This season's collection is no exception, bringing together the attention to detail that marks Jacques Vert out from the competition.

With superb design, excellent quality, a vibrant colour palette and exceptional complementary detailing for top-to-toe coordination, elegant women can find outfits to dress with flair, sophistication and confidence.

Marked out by exciting new shapes, creative fabrication, shorter skirt lengths and gorgeously exclusive prints, this collection focuses on colour, silhouette and first class finishes.

Key detailing includes flowering rosettes, pleating, beading and pearl buttons, and lightly sheer sleeves.

Devoré and leaf prints in soft mallow and pink shades, plus a very pretty new dress shape, are ideal for weddings and parties.

In a textured shimmer fabric, the exclusive draped shawl collar jacket and matching skirt will take anyone, anywhere, anytime and when worn with the splendid, light feather fascinator on a band or dark mallow and pink feather and bead-trimmed hat, this is a really special look.

Ambrosial poppy, delicious cookie and rich truffle conjure up romance and poetry in luxuriously indulgent fabrics. The pretty poppy tea dress is classically autumnal, whilst the truffle embroidered kimono shrug and matching pieces are a new departure in Jacques Vert shape and styling.

For a smart and classic option, the monochrome story is strong for this season and this interpretation includes a silk mix, bias cut leaf devoré two piece with a softly draped cowl neck; a sharply cut jacket featuring lovely rosette buttons and a satin contrast lining or a light and floaty ink drawn leaf crinkle chiffon two-piece.

KOS Media has teamed up with Jacques Vert to offer two lucky readers £150 to spend in Jacques Vert Bluewater.

To enter, simply answer the question below and send your entry on a postcard along with your email address (if applicable), name, address, and daytime telephone number to Jacques Vert Competition, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent, TN25 6SR. The closing date is September 30, 2009.

Question: What does this season's collection focus on?

TALK TIME

DEREK SMITH

The volunteer at Samphire Hoe talks about his work and his delight at the park being awarded a Green Flag

How long have you been a volunteer at Samphire Hoe and what work do you do?

I've been here since it first opened 11 years ago. I was paid for a couple of years, but I'm back to volunteering again. I do surveys of butterflies and birds and draw up the reports. I also look after the public and help them out with any advice or information they might need. I regularly walk around clearing up litter, too, to make sure it's kept clean and tidy around here.

What is your favourite thing about work?

I enjoy the open spaces and I'm also an ardent birdwatcher, so I get to enjoy that aspect too. More than 200 species have been seen here.

Is there anything difficult about the job?

Not really, except when people come down with their dogs - I have to make sure they keep them on the lead. Most of the time people are very good about it, though.

How did you feel when Samphire Hoe was awarded a Green Flag?

It's brilliant. It really reflects all the hard work the volunteers do. There are about 15 or 16 of us who work here. There's always someone here, every day of the week

Will you stay here for another 11 years?

I'll carry on until I fall off my perch!

YOUR LETTERS

Bad news awaits airport battlers

Louise Barton of LAAG is now crying "foul" because the new managing director of the airport, Jonathan Gordon, has asked for time to familiarise himself with the planning applications which have been before Shepway council for more than three years.

What hypocrisy. This is the same person, same group, who from 1988 to 1994, as full consultees in the planning consultation, used the information thus gleaned to delay the process to such effect that by the time our MP Michael Howard, following a hugely expensive public inquiry, granted planning permission, the airport had gone broke.

Mrs Barton and LAAG are employing the same tactics this time round in the hope that history repeats itself. Bad news is awaiting them, though.

The committee and members of Friends of Lydd Airport Group (FLAG) are confident that the formidable airport management team led by Cliff Spink and Mr Gordon will stick to its task to bring desperately-needed employment to our area.

Public opinion has now swung irreversibly behind the management of Lydd Airport.

The dignity of a job, a future for our people, especially our youngsters, is paramount.

We are confident of going forward to a better future.

Michael Walsh
Friends of Lydd Airport Group

Sheep slaughter totally insensitive

I would like to complain about the headmistress of Lydd

Primary School and her totally insensitive handling of Marcus the sheep.

I do not believe that children of this age should be given the opportunity to say whether an animal should live or die, nor do

I believe that they came to this decision without some direction.

They are not old enough to understand the consequences of their decision and what would happen to their 'pet' in the slaughterhouse.

The headmistress does not appear to know the difference between rearing a pet and a farm animal and I believe should not be in a position of authority over the animals at her school.

Civic recognition for my work at last

Over the years I have had some 300 articles published, many relating to Dover and its history. Also I have to my credit the academically-acclaimed book, Banking on Dover.

Yet not once have I had my work acknowledged by the powers-that-be in our town.

So can you imagine my surprise when on Saturday, during the book-signing of Haunted Dover at Sussex Books in Biggin Street, the mayor, Sue Jones, came in in her full regalia!

Not only did she shake my hand and pose for a photograph, she stayed for quite a few minutes.

I am delighted that for the first time my work in providing positive publicity for Dover has been officially recognised.

As for my book, Haunted Dover, it is proving to be a success and, before it was even printed, the publisher, History Books, signed me up for another book on Dover.

Foster Carers required

A highly successful, innovative and forward thinking fostering service requires additional foster carers. We are currently supporting a select number of local authorities who have tasked us with integrating vulnerable and complex young people into a 'family setting'. You will need to be resourceful, resilient and emotionally aware and have a good understanding and grounding of the role that you are required to deliver.

Unsupported? Unsupervised? Undervalued?
No training plan? Not listened to?

Join FosterCare UK

We are particularly interested in hearing from people who could foster

- Young people moving into a family setting from residential or secure accommodation
- Young people aged 8-14 years and siblings groups
- Children with high needs in relation to physical disabilities
- Children with Autistic Spectrum Disorders
- Young people seeking asylum
- A young person, who is a parent or about to become a parent
- A 15-18 year old on an independent/supported living programme

You must:

- Have fostering experience
- Be over 25, single or a couple
- Have at least one spare bedroom
- Have children no younger than 11 years old living at home
- Have a supportive network of family & friends
- Be prepared to attend monthly comprehensive training

We offer:

- A professional fee of £408 per week per child
- Stakeholder pension
- Three weeks paid holiday
- 24hr support from an experienced team
- Comprehensive training to at least NVQ Level 3
- Activity & holiday allowances

Congratulations on 80 years of carnival

I would just like to extend my congratulations to Aylesham Carnival Association for a lovely carnival on Saturday, and to say happy birthday – 80 years is a marvellous achievement for a village carnival.

Let's hope Aylesham has another 80 successful years.

Hospital flooding risk denied consistently

The statement by Tim Ingleton (head of regeneration at Dover District Council) in last week's Yourdover ('Flood risk forces hospital rethink') that the risk of flooding was clearly identified in the Local Development Plan is quite unforgivable and unacceptable.

At countless public consultation meetings, all the DDC planners, when asked if there was a flooding problem, have denied it and let the public and the DDC and KCC scrutiny committees believe that the Maison Dieu site did not have a flooding problem.

A great deal of public money has been irresponsibly wasted.

Reg Hansell

More investment in public transport vital

Ian Taylor offers a picture of motorists as if they were in some sense a persecuted minority.

However, private motoring receives about £13 billion-£14 billion per year in subsidies since the taxes people pay do not cover the full cost of road repair, policing the road system, health-care costs and so on.

Only motorists in London paying for the congestion charge actually pay their way.

Also, the overall cost of motoring over the last 10 years has dropped by about 8 per cent. This compares with an average 37 per cent increase in bus and rail fares combined.

So public-transport-users are getting a very raw deal.

Recent threats to rail services such as Maidstone to Cannon Street, and reductions in services from Tonbridge to Redhill, are part of cuts which mean rail-users get less while paying more.

Even the minimum charge on the Network Card has been increased from £10 to £13 in one step.

And everyone eligible to pay bus fares knows how expensive they are.

Every penny spent on new trunk roads is money that could and should be spent on public transport.

Support players in bid for FA cup glory

On Saturday, Hythe Town FC have one of their biggest games when they play host to Woking FC of the Blue Square Conference South in the second qualifying round of the FA Cup.

To get to the next round, Hythe Town FC will need as much support as possible.

I urge the people of Hythe and the surrounding area to come and support Hythe Town FC and watch history in the making.

If we do manage to be victorious, Hythe Town FC will be the star performer of the FA Cup so far.

The players will do their best on Saturday. We must do the same.

Coast along for a taste

New food festival launched to celebrate our county fare

TEMPT your taste buds with the best of local produce during the Broadstairs Food Festival.

With its reputation for being a town of independent shopkeepers and its prime position by the sea, Broadstairs is the perfect spot for the introduction of an annual food festival.

The event will give residents and visitors the chance to sample the delicious produce to be found in the area and to discover the benefits of shopping locally.

A joint initiative between the Broadstairs & St Peters Chamber of Commerce and the Broadstairs Leisure & Tourism Association, the festival is supported by many local businesses. KOS Media is a media sponsor, along with BBC Kent, and Thanet Earth is the lead sponsor – others include Harveys of Ramsgate, Levicks in Broadstairs, Lillyputt Mini Golf, Malcolm Hairdressers, Rooks the Butchers, Waitrose and Love Food Hate Waste.

The fun starts with the National Farmers Union Road Show at Upton School on Monday. Free stroganoff will be on offer at Barnaby Rudge on Monday evening as people are invited to enjoy a Russian night with Sergei Pachnine.

A gala dinner will be held at Thanet College in Ramsgate Road on Tuesday, while gourmets can enjoy some big-screen entertainment at the Palace Cinema. Queen Latifah and Gerard Depardieu star in The Last Holiday, a foodie comedy which receives a matinee screening on Wednesday.

Indulge in a delicious five-course gourmet dinner at Burrow House in Granville Road on Thursday, accompanied by complementary wine. Tickets cost £50 and booking is essential, visit www.burrowhouse.co.uk for more information.

A cookery demonstration will be held in Broadstairs High Street between 11am and 1pm on Friday, as Miele presents a new steam oven.

From Friday to Sunday, Victoria Gardens will be bustling with more than 40 stallholders, all exhibiting the best of local and Kent produce.

Visit Thanet Earth's stand to find out about the greenest greenhouses in the UK in 3D and sample their tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers. John Burton-Race and several local master chefs will be entertaining the crowds in the Kitchen Theatre and there will also be live music and lots of food and drink to taste during the Food Fayre.

Throughout the festival, many restaurants, cafes and bars will be running special menus and promotions.

Look for the festival posters displayed in the windows of participating establishments.

For full festival details, go online at www.broadstairsfoodfestival.org.uk.

SOWETO GOSPEL CHOIR

Tuesday, September 29
Leas Cliff Hall, Folkestone

FOR a colourful and uplifting evening of music, look no further than the Soweto Gospel Choir.

As one of the most famous gospel choirs in the world, they have built up a reputation for incredible musical ability and awe-inspiring performances that are enhanced by their bright, authentic costumes.

They have performed all over the world, including a visit to Madison Square Garden in New York earlier this year, and their brand new show is a treat not be missed.

The 26-strong choir has performed with or supported some of the world's biggest music stars, including Bono, Queen, Christina Aguilera, The Eurythmics and Diana Ross. Spectators at the World Cup 2010 in South Africa will have the chance to see the choir in action, as they are one of the headline acts at the celebrations.

Mixing both mellow and uplifting songs, the concert will feature timeless favourites such as Oh Happy Day and Swing Down.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are priced from £16 to £23.

Book online at www.leascliffhall.org.uk or call the box office on 0844 847 1776.

MONKEY MONTH

Throughout September
Port Lympne and Howletts Wild Animal Parks

GO monkey mad as Port Lympne and Howletts launch a season of exciting animal-themed activities and events.

September is Monkey Month and visitors can enjoy monkey-themed fun seven days a week. From the mischievous Colobus Monkeys to the highly endangered Diana monkeys, visitors can be introduced to many of the parks' cheekiest inhabitants. They will hear stories of monkey mischief from the parks' expert keepers at the daily 'Meet The Keepers' Q&A session and see monkeys receive their daily meals.

Visitors can then head to the park's restaurant to enjoy their own yummy meal – with each child being given a free monkey mask to add some more monkey magic into the meal.

Every day one visitor aged over seven will win the chance to take part in a monkey feed by being named as the lucky Golden Ticket winner of the day. On arrival every child will be given a free goodie bag, packed full of activities to excite their curiosity in monkeys. And, for a limited time only, visitors can book online to save five per cent on your ticket price.

Terms and conditions apply – for full details visit www.totallywild.net or call 0844 855 0276.

BARRIE STACEY

Saturday, September 26
Memorial Theatre, Broadstairs

SPEND an evening in the company of a show-business legend when Barrie Stacey visits the Sarah Thorne Theatre Club.

At the age of 82, Stacey has enjoyed a remarkable career and still proves that there is plenty of life after normal retirement. The evening is sure to be packed with entertaining stories about the many famous faces he has represented and the shows he has produced during his long career. He will also be spilling the beans on what it was like to work with star names.

With all his anecdotes, experience and knowledge of the business, Stacey will have plenty to entertain audiences of all ages and will be of particular interest to aspiring artists.

The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £8 for Sarah Thorne Theatre Club members or £10 for non-members. To book call the box office on 0845 262 6263. Non-members must book seats at least 24 hours before the performance, but to avoid disappointment seats can be reserved by calling the box office or emailing info@sarahthorne-theatreclub.co.uk.

■ Mystic and Magick

DEE Oates is the proprietor of a unique store in Hythe.

Mystic and Magick caters for all sorts of people with varying beliefs. Items connected with Indian philosophies, Chinese beliefs, angels and astrology are all on offer along with seasonal cards, books and CDs.

Ornaments, wooden craft items, pictures and small furniture can also be purchased alongside handmade jewellery.

November 15, is the second anniversary for the store which has proved itself extremely popular with people who want to broaden their spiritual horizons or who already have an interest in matters esoteric.

Dee spotted the store and its location in an attractive Hythe street and intuition did the rest.

Herbs, spells and readings can also be made available or undertaken and the range of subjects under one roof makes the store unique across the area.

Most popular items include incense and crystals with Reiki healing and tarot readings also very highly sought after.

And replica Buddhas are always popular with people looking to express an interest in Eastern attitudes.

Personal contact is always highly prized with customers encouraged to take a full look at what is available in the store and they are encouraged to ask questions.

There are also a range of beauty treatments on offer including hair removal, eyelash and eyebrow tinting, derma fillers and non surgical aesthetic treatment.

Psychic readings and colour and ribbons readings take place on a Friday.

The store is open on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 10am to 5pm and on Wednesdays from 10am to 2pm.

Poles apart from your normal exercise routine

Affinity Pole Fitness

AFFINITY Pole Fitness is a way of teaching pole dancing as a form of fitness and exercise to get people to tone up, get into shape and feel good.

At most three years ago Lou Gardiner and her team started in Herne Bay at Talk nightclub but sessions are now also being held in Rivals, Deal, Fitness First gym, Ashford and Energy Fitness Club, Canterbury.

Instructors are all fully qualified and have taken part in podium dancing, aerobics teaching and finally pole dancing as a way of combining fun and exercise which combines balance, flexibility and core strength.

It keeps people feeling good, young and sexy and is not just for the slim and youthful.

It is suitable for all levels, shapes and sizes as well as being extremely good for socialising.

The sessions and classes are great fun and combine the physical fitness aspect with movement and suppleness – all under the eyes of a group of experts who are keen to share their knowledge and enthusiasm.

Venues are carefully chosen for their suitability and Deal sees sessions on Tuesday evenings from 6.30-9.30pm. Ashford has session from 6.30-7.30pm on Thursdays while Canterbury has them held on Wednesdays between 12-1.30pm as well as 7.30-8.30pm and on Saturday mornings between 8.30-9.30am.

Those who want to take part can also go to the Herne Bay classes which take place on Mondays and Tuesdays from 6.30-9.30pm.

Lou and her team can also be booked for birthdays and hen parties can be catered for as well as other celebrations.

Taster sessions can be purchased for just £5 and anyone who does sign up is offered seven lessons for the price of six.

TOP TIPS

White House

Exfoliate skin twice a week to remove dead skin cells and make it smoother as well as preventing in-growing hairs. Call 01303 389922.

Be A Beauty

Cell production and the movement of moisture from the skin's lower layers slows down as we age and skin texture can become uneven. Treat yourself to a facial at Be A Beauty using products specifically formulated for older skin including oil-rich moisturisers to improve the smoothness and build up your skin's barrier function. Call 01303 255415.

Vida

The sharp colours that have been highlighted over the summer are carried through into autumn with accessories, to brighten this season's colour – black. We will see yellow, lime green and purple being used to give contrast. Call 01303 814600.

Canterbury Hypnotherapy

A healthy diet with fruit and vegetables, milk and carbohydrates (like bread, potatoes, pasta and rice); plus protein (meat, fish, pulses such as peas, beans and dhal, cheese and eggs); and water will make you feel much more lively. Smile, laugh, be happy, and don't take everything in life too seriously. Live the life you want to live. Call 01227 379252.

Canterbury Skin Laser

To remove an amateur home-made tattoo takes one to two treatments, professional tattoos may require six or more. The number of treatments depends on amount and type of ink used and depth in the skin. Laser removal can remove tattoos without significant risk of scarring, but always consider carefully before having a tattoo. Call 01227 472288.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

ADVENTURELAND (15)

In the summer of 1987, a college graduate takes a part-time job in a theme park and sets himself up for heartbreak when he falls for a co-worker who is having a secret affair with the park's handyman.

(500) DAYS OF SUMMER (12A)

Tom falls for new girl Summer, but as the 500 days of their relationship unfold, Tom comes to realise that while she might be perfect for him, he's not her 'Mr Right Now' or even her 'Mr Right Ever'.

INGLOURIOUS BASTERDS (18)

Quentin Tarantino's war opus is a blood-soaked fairytale set in Nazi-occupied France, divided into five hefty chapters. He splices genres to dizzying effect across its two-and-a-half hours.

Away he goes as Mr Nice Guy finally takes the lead

■ BY SHEREEN LOW

EMILY Blunt probably wouldn't be too pleased if she found out that her fiancé was welcoming me into his bedroom.

"Come into my bedless bedroom," says John Krasinski, ushering me into a luxurious hotel suite in London.

It's not his real bedroom, however, as he admits: "I'm not staying here, I have a room a couple of floors up. This is a nicer room though – look at the windows and the beautiful view of Soho."

Emily has nothing to worry about. Ever the gentleman, John is just making sure I'm comfortable, even offering to pour me some water.

The 29-year-old is used to being Mr Nice in his career too, with roles in Leatherheads alongside George Clooney, License To Wed and the US version of The Office (where he plays Jim, the American equivalent of Tim), reinforcing the fact that he's the guy next-door.

"There are worse things you could be type-cast as other than the nice guy," he says.

"What I would like to consistently do more and more, before I start playing serial killer roles, is to take on these roles which have more and more conflict."

His latest part in Sam Mendes' Away We Go is one such role. As the bearded, geeky-looking Burt Farlander, John – who stars alongside Maggie Gyllenhaal and Maya Rudolph – not only takes centre stage for the first time, but gets to play someone with more depth.

He loves the fact that he's finally a leading man on the big screen after several previous supporting roles.

"How does it feel to be a leading man? It feels fantastic," he reveals, grinning.

FROM GEEK TO CHIC: John Krasinski without the beard

"It's funny because it's such an awesome part to play. It doesn't feel that different – I have to attribute that to Sam."

"To see a guy with a beard, long hair and dopey glasses being the leading man, means there's hope for the rest of us," he adds.

In real life, the Massachusetts-born actor is nothing like the geek he portrays.

His 6ft 3in stature and his easy-going smile have won him votes as one of the sexiest men in the US – not just once but twice.

And if that doesn't win you over, his wit definitely will.

Up next for John is a role in It's Complicated, which he has just filmed with Meryl Streep.

He is still shocked as to how much he has managed to land the plum roles.

"The Office was so surreal. It's like winning the lottery. And then to be with George [Clooney]!"

"And then, it gets even more surreal. To get a call from Sam Mendes telling you that he doesn't see anyone else in this film but you."

"I know, it's ridiculous. It sounds ridiculous to me too. I can't even imagine what's going to happen on the next movie. Maybe a spaceship will come down and drop a script."

SPECIALIST craft exhibitors will be showcasing and selling their work to shoppers at Hempstead Valley.

The shopping centre in Gillingham will be hosting a Craft and Memorabilia Fair on Sunday from 10am to 4pm.

Stalls will line the mall selling a wide variety of quality arts, crafts and collectable memorabilia, including toys, candles, handmade cards, wooden roses, painting and jewellery.

Visit www.hempsteadvalley.com.

Budding gardeners can meet Alan Titchmarsh

FANS of gardening expert Alan Titchmarsh can meet the man himself when he is at Bluewater signing copies of his brand new autobiography.

The much-loved broadcaster will be signing Knave of Spades: Growing Pains of a Gardener, at Waterstones, on Friday at 1pm. The book tells the story of how he found his passion for nature at an early age and landed a job at the BBC.

Knave of Spades is published in hardback by Hodder & Stoughton and is £20.

County Square will showcase new fashion

SHOPPERS in Ashford will be treated to four live fashion shows to launch the new season collections.

Professional models and supporting dancers from the FTD Dance Centre, in Ashford, will perform the shows at County Square Shopping Centre on Saturday. The shows will include the latest fashion for men, women and children and will take place at 11.30am, 1pm, 2.30pm and 3.30pm. Visit www.countysquareshoppingcentre.com.

Show your skin some love with new range

WITH the autumn months approaching people can keep their skin feeling soft with a new range of floral scented products from The Body Shop.

The Body Shop has recently launched its Love Etc range of perfume, body wash and body lotion to its stores and website. Love Etc is a combination of jasmine and indulgent notes of vanilla and sandalwood which gives it a floral sent. Love Etc includes community trade babassu oil, from Brazil, which prevents dryness.

Look like a magazine

YOUR TV REVIEW

■ BY TOM BETTS

 DON'T TELL THE BRIDE
BBC Three, 9pm, Tuesday

 THE XTRA FACTOR
ITV2, 9.15pm, Saturday

IT'S a brave man who messes with a woman's wedding plans, and an even braver one who volunteers to organise the day full stop.

But that is what the foolhardy souls on BBC Three show Don't Tell the Bride have stepped forward to do.

The groom and his best man take it upon them themselves to sort out everything – from the transport to the cake, from the venue to the flowers and even – the wedding dress.

Three weeks is allowed for them to achieve the task, but as a viewer you are less concerned with what happens on the big day and more with what country the often clueless groom will need to emigrate to if he fails to please his bride-to-be.

Incurring the wrath of a Bridezilla would be most men's idea of a living nightmare, but the sweetener is that they are provided with £12,000 to help organise the occasion.

No input is allowed from their soon-to-be better halves, who spend the period fretting about the million and one things that can go wrong, and contact is minimal.

In the first show of the series bride Sheena had her heart set on a pricey designer dress and a stately home or 'castle' as a venue for the nuptials.

It was hard to watch hubby-in-waiting Ritesh as he decided to book a cut-price venue and shop for the dress in a branch of Oxfam to save money. I feared for the future of his reproductive organs.

Amazingly enough it all seemed to work out for the best, especially as he got lucky on the dress front, but this can be torturous to watch at times as you worry about how it will turn out, but is a breezy enough little show.

If you're a X Factor devotee then I suspect you may well tune into the Holly Willoughby fronted Xtra Factor too.

This is the add-on sister show which scoops up all the bits that weren't good enough to make the final edit of the hour-long main offering and bundles them together for another hour of needless TV.

It's a waste of time and has nothing new to add to the format.

TV channels keep sticking out these spin-offs because they are an easy way of filling up airtime and they're probably cheap as hell to make.

Killing two birds with one stone is the phrase, I believe.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

GOING on faith is your only option when it comes to a love affair. You can't follow your partner every hour of every day. Of course, there are some red flags you need to watch for. If your amour says one thing, but consistently does another, you have reason to be suspicious.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aquarius 09067-531762

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)

YOUR sex appeal is irresistible to the people around you. You may be invited on a glamorous trip. Although you're nervous about the implications of this offer, it's too good to pass up. Luckily, the two of you seem to be one mind, particularly when it comes to principles.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Taurus 09067-531753

LEO (Jul 24-Aug 23)

MONEYMAKING opportunities related to art, music and entertainment are looking good now. You might find there's a big age difference between you and colleagues and that will help you learn a lot from this group. They have more experience than you and deserve respect.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Leo 09067-531756

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22)

SOMEONE could share some juicy inside information with you. Resist the temptation to spread the news. You could be being tested and by keeping quiet you will have shown just how loyal and trustworthy you are. Friends have a strong influence on your thinking.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Scorpio 09067-531759

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

MONEY could be tight this week, which is really frustrating. You may not be able to afford all the things you have planned. Don't make lame excuses; be truthful. Friends won't judge you, but they will offer help, both emotional and financial. Accept the former and refuse the latter.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

GEMINI (May 22-Jun 21)

INVESTING in property could create a source of steady income that allows you to enter into a more enjoyable line of work. You're incredibly smart and need a job involving a variety of options. If you want to buy a property, you can negotiate a good deal with a lending institution.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Gemini 09067-531754

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sep 23)

AN intense sexual attraction is too strong to ignore. You may be fighting this impulse because you're already in a relationship. You need to decide what is best for you. Yes, you've had your heart broken in the past. Making yourself vulnerable to another will involve a lot of risk.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Virgo 09067-531757

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)

BEING self-sufficient is a matter of creating a long-term investment strategy. It isn't enough to cover your bills. You've got to put money into savings. Talking to a financial advisor could hell. They can teach you strategies for making your income stretch further.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Sagittarius 09067-531760

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)

EXCITING plans are in the works, and loved ones are happy to help. A friend who has experience in your desired industry will be especially supportive. Lean on them when you encounter difficulties. It's never easy to risk rejection, but it is necessary if you're going to realise a dream.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531752

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)

ARTISTIC inspiration could come from a best friend, business partner or lover. If you are struck by an idea be sure and run with it. You may have to cancel your plans so you can launch this project. The last thing you need is a relative or neighbour breaking your concentration.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Cancer 09067-531755

LIBRA (Sep 24-Oct 23)

YOU need to trust your heart, especially where family is concerned. Recently, you've dredged up a lot of painful memories rooted back in your childhood. Confronting the source of your pain will be testing, but cathartic. Certain relatives will be angry at you for stirring up trouble.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Libra 09067-531758

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 20)

YOU'RE going through some profound changes, and while the process is scary, it is also empowering. If you've been thinking of going back to school or taking a trip around the world, do it. Taking time off seems against your nature. Maybe that's why you should try a change of pace.

PROPERTY NEWS

Merged company set to market Greenway

PROPERTY developer Hillreed Homes has announced the appointment of sales and letting agent Chesterton Humberts to market its latest homes at Greenway, Kings Hill.

The company was formed following a merger of two property companies earlier this year, Chesterton and Humberts, and has a heritage dating back to 1805.

Alexander Hunt, director at Chesterton Humberts, said: "We worked closely with Hillreed at its Bowden Court, Kemsing, site, where all properties have now sold."

"Consequently, we have been appointed to work at Kings Hill."

New home could literally cost you an arm and a leg

■ BY NICK AMES

PEOPLE who want to become homeowners in the South East are considering going to extreme lengths such as gambling, taking part in medical trials and even selling organs to raise funds for a purchase.

This is according to new research published by Circle Anglia – one of the UK's leading providers of affordable housing.

According to the nationwide survey of 2,000 people, seven per cent of people surveyed in the region say that they would consider undergoing medical trials if it meant they could buy a house.

Meanwhile, the research found that one per cent of people would even contemplate selling a part of their body for transplant if it meant they could purchase their first property.

Of those surveyed in the research, which was commissioned to raise awareness of affordable home-ownership options, 16 per cent admit to having turned to gambling in the hope of winning enough money to buy their first house. Almost a quarter – 23 per cent – admit they have sold personal possessions on eBay to save for a house.

STAKES: Many turn to gambling to afford a new home

But few are keen on the idea of moving back in with mum and dad. Just five per cent of people say they have taken the step to move back home with their parents in order to save for a deposit.

People in the region are also far more reluctant than many other parts of the UK to forego their wedding day in order to buy a house.

Unlike in Scotland, for example, where six per cent of people say they've cancelled their wedding to buy their first property, just two per cent of people in the South East have postponed or cancelled their big day for this reason.

Other things people in the South East have done to save money for a house deposit include pawning belongings – two per cent – and taking on a second job – seven per cent.

A further 18 per cent say they would consider another source of income, while 17 per cent say they know someone who has already taken on another line of work to supplement their income.

Andy Doyle, executive director of operations for Circle Anglia, said: "A very low number of people in the South East think they are eligible for affordable ownership opportunities."

"Hence it is crucial that anyone thinking of buying a property does thorough research to find out what schemes are currently available."

"Many may well be pleasantly surprised that the deposit they need is much less than they think."

Buyers must act fast to cash in on stamp duty exemption

PEOPLE thinking seriously about buying a home on a shared-ownership basis are being urged to move fast to secure a property before the Government's stamp duty exemption on homes costing below £175,000 expires at the end of the year.

The change was originally introduced to bring life to the dormant market during recent economic uncertainty.

But the scheme was always going to be for a fixed period only.

"Anyone who is completing a property purchase in the £125,000-£175,000 price range will have to pay one per cent stamp duty after December 31, 2009," said Marilyn DiCara, director of sales and marketing for Moat, the Government's HomeBuy Agent in Kent.

"That will mean an extra upfront cost of between £1,250 and £1,750 for buyers, depending on the exact price of the property they buy."

"Given that a normal house purchase usually takes around three months to go from agreed sale to completion, we would urge any first-time buyers who are thinking about getting onto the property ladder to find a home by around the end of September or early October to ensure that they have time to complete the purchase before the stamp duty exemption disappears."

"As the HomeBuy Agent for all government-backed affordable home-ownership schemes, we can point first-time buyers to a large range of shared-ownership homes priced under £175,000 throughout Kent."

"There are some great deals on offer at the moment, and with house prices starting to rise again, this could be the perfect time to buy a new home while keeping the upfront costs to a minimum."

The normal threshold for paying stamp duty on home buying is £125,000. The Government increased this to £175,000 for a limited period as part of a package of measures designed to stimulate the failing economy and housing market as the recession took hold. However, the threshold will revert to £125,000 on January 1, 2010.

Ms DiCara said "For many first-time buyers, raising the deposit and finding the money for the upfront costs of a house purchase is more difficult than paying the mortgage month to month. This is a one-off opportunity to keep those initial costs down, giving buyers extra to put towards the deposit or furnishing their first home. But people need to act fast."

MOTORS NEWS

Carmaker's sale a blight on new Astra's birth

DESPITE an earlier unveiling, the new generation Vauxhall Astra has been a star at the current Frankfurt Motor Show.

And when it goes on sale later this year it promises to be the best looking car in the family hatchback sector, carrying forward distinctive design language from the current European Car of the Year, the Insignia. However, the Astra's birth is set to be blighted by wrangles over the sale of General Motors' Vauxhall/Opel division and the car's production at the UK's Ellesmere Port plant.

Audi's electric supercar heralds new age of car?

FRANKFURT also lauded Audi's superb all-electric supercar Quattro concept.

As well as visual pulling power, the 'e-tron' has the real thing via an electric motor on each wheel, which also means zero emissions – providing they are not belching from a power station chimney further down the road – and hints at a new motoring golden age.

Clearly based on Audi's stunning R8, the e-tron gives hope to petrolheads who worry that neck-snapping automotive power will die when the oil wells dry up.

Toyota's IQ shows off its beauty as well as brains

FOR a little car, Toyota's new IQ city model can certainly talk big.

Thanks to a staggered front passenger seat, the tiny newcomer – a hand span longer than a two-seat Smart ForTwo – can seat three adults and a child yet qualifies for road tax-free motoring.

But Toyota has been keen to show that an IQ can be a thing of beauty as well as brains, with a package of body and customisation kits known as the 'IQ Collection' allowing owners to personalise their new baby.

GEARED UP: Mitsubishi's Cleartec Colt is cheap to run and buy and while most carmakers use diesel engines to improve emissions, the Japanese firm are making more of petrol engines

Mitsubishi gives green light with Colt Cleartec

ONCE better known for big 4x4s and pick-ups, Mitsubishi is re-inventing itself as a greener champion.

The Japanese brand's major part in the Dungeness wind farm bears local witness to this, but the clever new Cleartec Colt supermini is greater proof of new intent.

While most carmakers tinker with more expensive diesel engines to improve emissions and economy, Mitsubishi is making more of petrol engines – they are, after all, lighter and cheaper to fuel.

Although originally underwhelmed by the Cleartec's 'Auto Stop & Go' system, which seemed crude compared to rivals, I've since become a convert.

It saves up to 30 per cent of emissions as well as improving economy by stopping and then restarting automatically when the car is stuck in traffic or at the lights.

The Cleartec is cheap to buy and run too, and the whole Colt range has had a major midlife makeover; the profile is similar, but only 35 per cent of parts were carried over.

It also gained the smart 'Jet Fighter' nose from the latest Mitsubishi Lancer and you can still have a sporty three-door, or a more upright five-door mini-MPV. The latter in 94bhp 1.3 CZ2 Cleartec form is our test car and looks great value at an official £10,099.

In addition to keen pricing and Auto Stop & Go savings, you also gain economy and reduced emissions from low rolling resistance tyres, a higher top gear, improved alternator and lower viscosity oil. These add up to just 119g/km of CO2 emissions or the lowest payable road tax band (£35/year) and average mpg in the mid-50s for the Cleartec.

You don't feel compromised by the eco features either; the Cleartec accelerates faster than its conventional sister model, no doubt helped by the narrower and harder tyres, and the car handles tidily on a windy road.

Mind you, acting the fool in this eco-friendly car exposes the Colt's slightly jittery ride, but this is a rare complaint. The car is more refined and quieter than before too, after intensive sound absorption work.

The revamp has cost some versatility after replacement of the folding/removable rear seats by a conventional fixed/fold flat arrangement, but this delivers more boot space without compromising head and leg room.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

CONVERTIBLES

SUMMER'S over, so why shop for a convertible? Because prices are easing in an otherwise buoyant used car market and modern opentops – many of them 'coupé convertibles' or CCs with folding hardtops – are better all-year round/all-weather cars than ever before. This week's used buys feature two of this new generation born over the past 10 years or so, but check out the Mazda MX-5 too, available in classic ragtop or CC format and the car that did more than any other to make Britain tops for convertibles – despite the weather.

MAZDA MX-5

NOW into its third generation, the original MX-5 was inspired by classic British Triumph, MG and Lotus sports cars and given Japanese reliability. Sometimes criticised for a lack of outright power, the MX-5 is more famous for its beautifully balanced handling. Models hold their value well, although an influx of 'Eunos' – used imports from Japan – drove down prices for the Lotus-lookalike MkI. The latest MkIII offers beefier looks and the most creature comforts, if you can stretch the budget.

VAUXHALL ASTRA

VAUXHALL surprised everybody with the success of the original Astra convertible and followed up with the brilliant Astra TwinTop – the name inspired by the electronic folding metal roof. Both four-seaters are good looking with roof up or down and the TwinTop is a particularly good achievement when so many of its rivals look ungainly or 'boot heavy'. As with many 'chopped' hatchback convertibles, there is some body flex on both models, but don't let this break a deal.

PEUGEOT 206CC

MERCEDES pioneered new era folding metal roof convertibles in the 1990s, but Peugeot invented the system in the 1930s and brought the type to the mass market with the big-selling and plentiful 206CC. Based on the 206 hatchback and biggest-seller ever, the 206CC even had two seats in the back though it is no more than a 2+2. While relatively affordable, there have been reliability problems with the temperamental roof mechanism, so check this out before buying.

Community Liaison Officer

(Early Years) (Job Ref: EDS/467)

Grade: C1 - Salary: £16,663 - £22,001 per annum

Hours: 37 hours per week - 52 weeks a year

Location: Saxon Way Primary School Church Path
Ingram Road, Gillingham, Kent ME7 1SJ

Saxon Way Childrens Centre is experiencing an exciting time of growth and as a result we are now looking to recruit a full-time Community Liaison Officer to join our enthusiastic team. Working in the Gillingham area we are looking to appoint a man or a woman who is excited by new challenges and willing to implement new projects for local families with young children whilst working in partnership with a multitude of partner agencies.

Having experience of working with both parents/carers and children, you will be responsible for planning, implementing and evaluating Parent and Toddler Groups in settings across our reach area, as well as working in partnership with key statutory, voluntary and private agencies to create real positive change for our families.

You will have the skills to involve families with young children within a diverse community and become active in the community. Children's Centres are hubs of information for local families, so knowledge of the local community will be essential.

An understanding of the roles of other professionals and partners will also be an advantage. This post also requires a level 3 Childcare/Early Years or comparable relevant qualification.

Offer of appointment is subject to a satisfactory Enhanced Criminal Records Bureau Disclosure.

To find out more about this exciting role or to arrange a visit please contact:
Margaret Windeatt, Community Services Manager on Tel: 01634 852320 or email office@saxon-way.medway.sch.uk

Closing Date: 2 October 2009
Interviews will be held: 14 October 2009

COMMERCIAL WINDOW SURVEYOR

Attractive salary package, company car, pension and NVQ training
South & South East

You will be responsible for measuring properties for the installation of PVCU and Aluminium window and door products that are undergoing refurbishment. This role involves transferring surveyed data to a window design software package to create works instructions. You will be joining the surveying team who work across the South of England. Attention to detail and enthusiasm are important.

Please apply by CV and covering letter to the Surveying Manager at 140 Newington Road, Ramsgate, Kent, CT12 6PP.

DREAMLAND, MARGATE

The Dreamland Trust has secured funding to commence work on the development of detailed proposals for a unique eight-acre tourist attraction. Phase One of the project, worth £12.4m, will create the world's first amusement park to solely feature thrilling historic rides and will be centred on the Grade II-listed Scenic Railway roller coaster. The second phase will involve the restoration of the Grade II*-listed Dreamland Cinema building as a multi-purpose entertainment venue, creating a national centre for seaside heritage, popular culture and street style.

We are now recruiting a core team to make this exciting concept a reality.

PROJECT DIRECTOR

£31,250pa P/T (£62.5K FTE)

The Project Director will be the public face of Dreamland Margate, overseeing a small team, including a Project Manager. The successful candidate will need to be enthusiastic about popular culture and seaside heritage. They will have to show evidence of successfully delivering complex capital projects, fundraising, managing partnerships and have the presence, flair and people skills to maintain progress towards meeting tight deadlines. They will have high-level communication and presentational skills and will know how to allocate their time and delegate intelligently.

Closing date: 2 October 2009.

AUDIENCE DEVELOPMENT OFFICER

£28,000pa

The Audience Development Officer is a curator, organiser and the public liaison point for the project, organising exhibitions that act as the basis for audience development. The successful candidate will have an appropriate degree, experience of curatorial duties and managing and creating publicity. The post-holder must possess a knowledge of, and passion for, seaside culture and post-War popular music and fashion.

Closing date: 19 October 2009.

PROJECT ARCHIVIST

£22,000pa (1 Year Fixed-Term Contract)

This is an exciting opportunity for an enthusiastic archivist to research, collate and disseminate historical information relating to the Dreamland site and seaside culture, specifically in Margate, as part of the development of the Dreamland project. Please note this post will require some travel.

Closing date: 19 October 2009.

CAF Co-ordinator

Starting salary £30,219, with progression through contribution related pay to £35,724 per annum

Full-time

This is an exciting and innovative opportunity to manage and further develop the effective co-ordination of the Kent Common Assessment Framework (CAF) in Thanet.

You will be working with officers and practitioners across Kent County Council directorate and Kent Children's Trust Partner Agencies to ensure there is an effective process established in Thanet.

You will need substantial experience of leadership, management of change, staff supervision and a high level of political and organisational skill. Tact and diplomacy are pre-requisites along with a commitment to improving the outcomes for children and their families. You will be required to monitor and review the integrated systems and framework to ensure the needs identified through the CAF process can be addressed. As Thanet will benefit from extra resources to address the high level of need, you will also be able to develop the process to promote family assessments through the 'Think Family' pilot.

This post will be based at Clover House, Whitstable and will involve travelling to Thanet for meetings.

This post is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure Application to the Criminal Records Bureau.

Previous applicants need not apply.

To apply, visit www.kent.gov.uk/jobs

Alternatively, please email recruitment.line@kent.gov.uk or call 0845 8247 904. Please quote reference number CFE/09/0421.

Closing date: Midday 5th October 2009.

Interviews are expected to take place on the afternoons of 13th & 14th October 2009.

“Sales done properly?” That's Saga.

SALES AGENTS

Opportunities in Home and Motor Insurance, Outbound and Personal Finance
£16k – £18k+ OTE (basic salary and uncapped commission)
Excellent benefits package | FOLKESTONE AND THANET

Listening to customers. Taking the time to understand their needs. Building a real rapport with them. That's what we call doing things properly for our customers as we deliver great service, selling our products to people aged 50 and over.

And if you can help us achieve that, we'll do things properly for you too. That means excellent training and development at every stage. It also means unlimited earnings potential and superb benefits including private healthcare, pension scheme, social club and discounts on insurance products, holidays and flights for you and your relatives.

What's more, it means a friendly working environment – as well as all the training and support you need to do a terrific job.

The question is, have you got what it takes to be part of this fast-growing national company? You'll need to be target driven and able to rise to new challenges, that's for sure. You must also share our commitment to getting things right – every time. If you're interested in any of our roles within Outbound and Personal Finance, relevant experience would be beneficial but not essential.

If it's time for you to enjoy the rewards you deserve please write enclosing your CV, quoting reference SVS329/KOS, to Alice Forsyth, HR Officer, Saga Group Limited, Enbrook Park, Folkestone, Kent CT20 3SE or e-mail: human.resources@saga.co.uk Alternatively, please call 01303 774888 for an application form or download one from our website.

Sharks' poor show in derby stalemate

Thanet Wanderers 19 Dover 19

THE DOVER Sharks held on for a point after a poor performance in the local derby with rivals Thanet Wanderers.

They could have come away with nothing had the Thanet captain not been generous in refusing a penalty kick with the final play of the game.

Dover had the advantage of the slope in the first half and although they had the better of the territory for long periods, they lacked composure.

They did, however, take the lead in the 19th minute when left-winger Mark Beaumont crashed over on his return to Dover following a stint with Aylesford.

The home side got themselves back into the game with a penalty from Richard Eldridge, but the opening of the second half was undoubtedly Dover's best period of play. Thanet, however, took the lead from another Eldridge penalty but Dover were soon ahead with their second try.

Buster Collins turned the ball over, allowing Dover to break down the left wing. Dover again pressed and put pressure on the hosts, before Thanet were provided with an early Christmas present. A lethargic pass in midfield was intercepted by Tom Ash who ran 75 yards to touch down under the posts, the extras followed.

Dover again took the lead after Beaumont offloaded to Mackintosh who scored with Charge converting.

Enforced changes meant Dover lacked cohesion for the final chapter of the game and were consistently penalised, allowing Eldridge to slot a further two penalties to reduce the deficit to three points. Another penalty in injury time levelled the scores and Dover just about hung on to the draw.

CELEBRATION: Adam Birchall celebrates with team-mates after netting a brace and securing Dover's win in the dying minutes of the game against Bath City at the weekend in the process

Birchall nets a late brace to keep Whites top of the pile

FOOTBALL

■ BY TOM HOWARD

Dover Athletic 2

Birchall 75, 90

Bath City 1

Edwards 90

ADAM Birchall scored a dramatic late winner at Crabble to preserve Dover Athletic's lead at the top of Blue Square South.

The visitors thought they had claimed a precious point at fortress Crabble on Saturday after striker Darren Edwards beat his marker before lobbing Lee Hook to score an equaliser in the final minute of the game.

If the City players hadn't celebrated for as long as they did, perhaps referee Phil Knight might not have added the extra minute Dover needed, and Birchall in particular, to fire the Whites back into the lead.

The former Barnet forward has been suffering with injury and was deemed too much of a risk by boss Andy Hessenthaler, to start the game.

After witnessing a goalless first half, Hessenthaler decided to introduce the striker and he had an almost immediate impact. In the 75th minute the ball was played out wide to substitute Jerahl Hughes and the former Crystal Palace man found Birchall in the box, who fired home to give Dover the lead.

The three points looked to have disappeared when Edwards nicked a late equaliser, but from the re-start, the ball was played to Birchall who let fly with one that left goalkeeper Steve Perrin with no chance.

Hessenthaler felt his side did well against a side that arrived at Crabble to frustrate and heaped praise on two-goal man Birchall who helped his side secure the points and maintained their 100 per cent home record.

"We got a late goal to win it but it was the right result," he said. "Bath came with a game plan to get a point and it almost worked. It is difficult to break teams down when they have a plan and park a bus in front of the goal. To be honest we could have won it by two or three but I am pleased with the result and the players deserve the credit after another good performance.

"It was a risk to bring Birchall on with his injury but it was a risk worth taking. He managed to get both goals and just showed what a class forward he is. Sometimes I think he is too clever for some of the players in this division. He got through the game okay and we hope he will be fully fit for the FA Cup game against East Preston."

Cugley threatens to drop his misfiring strike force

FOOTBALL

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

Chipstead 0

Folkestone Invicta 0

FOLKESTONE Invicta manager Neil Cugley has threatened to drop his misfiring strikers after they again failed to make the most of their chances in Saturday's goal-less draw at Chipstead.

The Seaside remained top of the Ryman South despite the stalemate but their lofty position has more to do with an outstanding defensive record, with just one goal conceded in seven league games.

With just eight league goals scored so far, Cugley felt his side's lack of cutting edge up front was beginning to become a problem and admitted he might have to look elsewhere for the answers.

He told Yourshepway: "We created a lot of chances but didn't put them away, that's been our problem all season. We're just not hurting teams in the final third, the forwards have to take responsibility."

"You could understand it if we set up defensively, but we're looking to attack teams. It's been hidden a bit by the fact we're top, but that's because our defence has been exceptional.

"You try to change formation and different combinations of players, but eventually you will look to change personnel. We might have to go and get someone in and move others on, I'm very close to doing that."

Invicta's goal problems were not helped with the sight of Jimmy Dryden hobbling off after 20 minutes. An awkward landing on the hard ground aggravated the knee injury which has troubled last season's top scorer since the summer, but he could return this Saturday.

Chipstead had the best chance of a tight first half when goalkeeper Jack Delo conceded a penalty just before the break. The stopper made amends by blocking the effort to keep his seventh clean sheet of the season intact.

Invicta had plenty of chances to win the game in the second half. Josh Burchell came closest after a fine attacking move, but his shot smacked the crossbar. Substitute Jon Driscoll was also guilty, somehow heading wide when unmarked six yards out.

Invicta stayed top of the league, one point clear of Godalming, who visit the Buzzlines Stadium on Saturday.

Cugley said: "It's funny really because it's first versus second but it doesn't feel like it because we're not firing on all cylinders. We're not as upbeat as we should be considering our position, but maybe this is our chance to turn things round in front of goal."

Old boys return to enact revenge for FA Cup exit

FOOTBALL

Hythe Town 1 Faversham Town 2

TWO former Hythe Town strikers made a scoring return at Reachfields to help rivals Faversham Town take revenge for last week-end's FA Cup exit.

After Town ran out deserved winners after a 2-1 win against the Lilywhites last Saturday, Faversham took the spoils from the Kent League game after a good display from Justin Luchford's side.

The game started in chaotic fashion for the home side, as during the warm-up, goalkeeper Kieron Mann appeared to pick-up an injury. As a result, and with usual substitute goalkeeper Tony Allen suspended, reserves goalkeeper Jon Sparks was called back from the reserves game at Faversham to come on for the first-team as a second minute substitution. With that behind them, Hythe set about enjoying probably their best period of the game in the first 20 minutes, but a resolute Faversham defence restricted them to one chance when Gavin Ransley headed a corner wide.

After the restart Faversham dominated and claimed the lead just after the hour mark when Sparks produced an excellent save from Damian Abel, only to parry the ball into the path of Buster Smissen who made no mistake.

The home side equalised with nine minutes remaining when a Dave Cook through ball was pounced on by Kieran Byrne. The former Folkestone man beat off the challenge of Jamie Sparks before firing a shot past Rob French.

The visitors scored the winner with a minute to go when Lee Shearer headed a corner into the path of Richard Sindén, who from eight yards out headed home to win the game.

Elsewhere in the Kent League, Deal Town move up to ninth in the division after Aaron Robinson scored the winner in a 1-0 win against Fisher at the Charles Sports Ground.

CATCH OF THE DAY

Summer's back and so is mackerel

By TONY HILLS, a keen beach and boat angler with 50 years' experience fishing Dungeness and District and vice-chairman of the Dungeness Angling Association

THANK heavens those horrible north easterly winds have gone. Suddenly we are back to summer and we could even see a return of mackerel, however short-lived it may be. With calm seas I hope to hear of a few sole being caught. Later in the week we have a few small south westerly winds coming along. This should keep us busy with whiting, small bass and codling. Tides are still a good size to about midweek.

PIRATE SPRINGS AND LITTLESTONE: Fishing at night should produce all the usual species over high water, but tide times are a bit late.

BACK OF THE BOATS: Lovely conditions for fishing the rising tide after dark. Whiting, bass, sole and the odd codling expected.

DUNGENESS: Fish through low water on the 'point' just as night falls; codling will be the target but expect the full range of species. Fresh lugworm tipped with squid or mackerel will be favourite.

DENCOMARSH & GALLOWAYS: This week the conditions should be perfect for sole, they have been thin on the ground so far this autumn. Galloways should produce more small bass.

JURYS GAP: Not the best conditions, if we get a bit of wave action we should have some small bass, if it's calm we might see some mackerel over high water.

BOAT FISHING: At last we have a few codling being reported up to eight pounds. Rough ground around East Roads should be worth a go. Still a bit early for the 'drop off' at the Kerton Road mark, with calm weather excellent conger fishing should be available on the inshore wrecks.

CONSTRUCTION EXPO 2009

Construction Expo 2009 which is organised by KOS Media, returns to Chatham Historic Dockyard for one of the biggest regional events in its calendar.

The event was created from the merger of Kent's Future Live and the Construction Expo to create a powerful business platform for companies of all sizes, involved in the construction, development and regeneration industry across the South East.

SEEDA, Delivery Boards, Contractors, Architects, Developers, Planners, Suppliers, Utilities and Training Providers are among the many exhibiting and visiting the event.

The event will showcase leading suppliers, within the industry, giving delegates the opportunity to meet, within a face to face environment, to:

- Network and share best practice with Key players.
- View a wide range of solutions and services on offer from leading suppliers
- Receive expert advice from industry experts

Comprehensive conference programmes, within three "free to attend" seminar theatres, aimed at demonstrating business opportunities and ways to survive the recession, will take place throughout the day.

Denne Construction are hosting The Denne Student Expo, which is showcasing project work, from schools in Kent & Medway, that has been developed as part of a programme of engagement with Denne Construction. The Student expo, this year, has been positioned to become part of the dedicated area on the floor devoted to Colleges offering education and skills, for a career in the industry.

New for 2009 is The EcoVillage who have joined the Expo, for the first time, with a key area on the floor and a dedicated Conference Theatre. The EcoVillage are dedicated to the promotion of sustainable construction and will be showcasing the latest in sustainable construction and green building products and services to help inform and educate on what they believe is the future of construction.

Refreshments, with Hot and Cold food, will be available throughout the day

The exhibition opens at 8am and closes at 4pm.

Entry, and parking, is free and Fast Track Registration is available by visiting the website: www.constructionexpo.co.uk

Keynote Theatre
8.00am	Councillor Jane Chitty Portfolio Holder for Strategic Development and Economic Growth for Medway Council	Introduction Jane will be opening and welcoming delegates and exhibitors at this year's Construction Expo.
8.15am	Wayne Hemingway Hemingway Design	The Bridge to delivering more and better housing Wayne has been working with Taylor Wimpey and Broadway Malyan on the masterplan for one of the first Thames Gateway schemes in Dartford, The Bridge. He is therefore no stranger to the wider Thames Gateway issues surrounding social housing, space, design, jobs and skills. In his presentation Wayne will outline his vision and what opportunities are to be had at both the good and the challenging times. Wayne believes that the housing downturn is a once in a generation opportunity to set up structures that allow the UK to deliver developments that start to approach the quality and liveability of our European neighbours Wayne will welcome questions from the floor after his presentation.
10.00am	David Liston-Jones Chief Executive, Thames Gateway Kent Partnership (TGKP)	Delivering growth and regeneration in the Thames Gateway The Thames Gateway Kent Partnership brings partners from across North Kent together to drive forward the ambitious plans for economic growth and regeneration in the Kent part of the Thames Gateway. In his presentation David will give an update on current progress and explain how local partners are responding to the current challenging economic conditions. He will argue that whilst short term priorities may change, the vision and objectives for the Thames Gateway remain as valid as ever.
11.00am	Judith Armitt Managing Director, Ashford's Future	Operation Ashford Judith will be discussing the distinctive attractions of Ashford such as the breath-taking connectivity of the High Speed connections to London and Europe and the distinctive environment created by the country's largest shared space scheme; about creating new destinations within an existing community.
12.00pm	Chris Moore Director of the Built Environment, SEEDA	Beyond the Crunch – Building a stronger South East

Wayne Hemingway MBE, Hemingway Design

With his wife Gerardine, Wayne built Red or Dead into a label that received global acclaim resulting in winning the prestigious British Fashion Council's Streetstyle Designer of the Year Award for an unprecedented three consecutive years in 1996, 1997 and 1998. Working with Taylor Wimpey and Broadway Malyan they worked on the masterplan for one of the first Thames Gateway schemes in Dartford and won against stiff opposition. The "Bridge" scheme is currently in the second phase of construction, first residents have moved in and it continues to sell well.

David Liston-Jones, Chief Executive, Thames Gateway Kent Partnership (TGKP)

David took on the role of Chief Executive of the Thames Gateway Kent Partnership (TGKP) in January 2006. TGKP is the sub-regional partnership covering the Kent part of the Thames Gateway. It brings together local authorities, local regeneration partnerships and other partners to focus on the strategic investment priorities for the area.

CONSTRUCTION EXPO 2009

START	SPEAKER	SUBJECT
Workshop 1
9.30am	Adam Roake Director, Urbanise	Building For Life – the national standard for well-designed homes and neighbourhoods An outline of the background to the Building For Life initiative; how and why the government have now placed good design at the heart of the planning system; what the 20 Building For Life criteria cover, how they are arranged and what they mean; how meeting Building For Life criteria is increasingly required by the Homes and Communities Agency, Local Authorities, RSLs and other public bodies who have authority within the housing and development sector. What house builders and developers need to do to ensure they meet Building For Life criteria.
10.30am	James Strawbridge From BBC2's 'It's Not Easy Being Green'	Sustainable Construction 80% of the homes we will inhabit in 2050 are already built today. So how will we meet the government's target of near zero carbon in existing buildings by that time? James Strawbridge will be running this workshop on Sustainable Refurbishment. The workshop will look at how government legislation is making a strong business case for refurbishment of existing buildings. James will also discuss some of the practical ways that buildings can be made more energy efficient using both conventional building materials and their more sustainable alternatives. There will be time for a short Q&A session afterwards and James will be at Business Link's Sustainability Stand after the workshop for further discussion.
11.30am	Paul Toben Programme Manager, Business Link	Construction finishing trades needed for London 2012 The big build phase of the Olympic Park, the Athletes Village and Stratford City commenced at the start of 2009 so we are now nearing the stage when the more minor works and finishing trades will be required to complete the buildings, accommodation and stadium by the Summer of 2011. If you want to be in with a chance of securing some of these business opportunities, you need to be published on CompeteFor, working with your existing clients and networking to find new contacts so you can bid for these opportunities. Business Link is here to help small and medium sized businesses understand what they need to do to be 'Fit to Supply' and break into the London 2012 supply chains and how they can improve their core competencies. Book on the London 2012 workshop now to find out about the latest contracts and what's coming up in the next few months.
12.30pm	Russ Timpson Managing Director, The Fire Strategy Group	'How to survive a major construction crisis' The talk will feature case studies of construction crisis events, and go onto detail how loss can be mitigated, and even turned into opportunity.
1.30pm	The Kent Architecture Centre	"Engaging the Stakeholder in the Design Process: the who, when, how, and why"
2.30pm	Speaker from HM Revenue &amp; Customs	VAT and Construction An update on current rules and reliefs. The presentation will highlight the main VAT liability rules relating to domestic and commercial new construction, refurbishments, and change of use, together with the VAT position regarding onward sale or leasing of new construction.

Programme may be subject to changes without prior notification

1. To raise the awareness of the London 2012 supply chain opportunities publicised through the CompeteFor website.

2. Specialist 2012 and general business support available through Business Link, Partners and other business support organisations with the purpose to enable small and medium sized businesses become 'fit to supply' into both London 2012 and the Public Sector.

James Strawbridge, from BBC2's very successful series 'It's not easy being green'

James Strawbridge has always loved nature, from skimming stones to collecting bones. At university he specialised in environmental history. This intellectual playtime resulted in a 1st class degree from York University and was accompanied by a significant family move from a semi-detached home in Malvern, Worcestershire to a farm in sunny Cornwall.

The family's adventure was followed by BBC2 in the very successful series 'It's not easy being green' (2006). This series saw James and family attempting to live a more sustainable lifestyle. Learning basic green engineering concepts and a very hands-on approach to environmental development had a great affect on James.

Adam Roake, Director, Urbanise

Adam is a developer and an architect with over twenty five years experience in residential led, mixed use development including ten years as a main board director for a prominent developer of brownfield land in London.

Through urbanise he offers specialist design and development consultancy services principally to house builders and other private sector developers.

In addition he is a member of Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment's (CABE) Enabling Panel. He also delivers consultancy work in this role and as a Building for Life Accredited Assessor, helping public bodies ensure that good design is at the heart of their building projects.
